Susan Boucher

A photograph of a snowy mountain landscape. A wooden plank is placed horizontally across the middle of the frame, with the name "Susan Boucher" written in black marker on it. Above the plank, a yellow tape measure is stretched across the width of the image. The background shows a steep, snow-covered mountain slope with some rocky outcrops. In the bottom right corner, a portion of a blue and silver mechanical device, possibly a snow machine or a camera, is visible.
