Subject: Release Notice for Clay Electric Cooperative Site from FDOT

The Department's local Permitting Office has been reviewing the Clay Electric Cooperative, Inc. Plan submittal for new Access to SR-47 South in Columbia County for some time now. Our Permits office is now near the final review and all items are now known as to the planned Access improvements. While no permit has been issued yet, it is the intent of our office to approve the Access Plan in the very near future. For this reason, the Department would ask that the Columbia County Permitting Office allow the Clay General Contractor, known here as Gray Construction Services, Inc to obtain those initial start permits that allow the preliminary start of the on-site building construction. As per the usual, our office would ask that no final Certificate of Occupancy be issued until the Department's local Permits Office has made its normal final inspection for acceptance (with notification to the County Office) of those Access and Roadway Improvements that will soon be permitted.

The project Title is: Clay Electric Cooperative, Inc.- New District Office
Address: 1659 SW SR-47
Lake City, Fl. 32025

Proposed County Permit Appl. No. 1203-37

As per the usual, thanks for your continued mutual cooperation,

6/1/2012

Ryan:

We got the SRWMD permit (attached a copy) but the FDOT is going to take longer. We expect the first set of comments from them by April 11, 2012. As soon we incorporate all the comments from everybody, We will submit the final plans with revision and copy of the permits to the county.

Do we have the Water Management permit?

Also, they want us to have the DOT permit before they will issue the building permit; do you know the status of it and the revised drawings?

Sincerely,
Ryan Parker
