RE: Your Letter Dated January 31, 2013 –
Proposed Amendment – Alcoholic Beverage Ordinance

Dear Mr. Roberts:

Thank you for the above referenced letter. I have attached a memo that was recently issued by County Commissioner Ronald Williams. The memo and your letter are related in that both request an amendment to Columbia County's Alcoholic Beverage Ordinance.

Commissioner Williams indicates in his memo that he will soon ask the Board of County Commissioners to schedule a Public Hearing in order to consider his proposed amendment. It would make sense that you or your representative address the Board at this time and request that your proposed amendments be included. I am not certain as to the specific date Commissioner Williams will address this issue. I am assuming [REDACTED] copy of this letter I am requesting that Penny Stanley notify you when the topic is agendaed. Please advise if I may be of further assistance.

Sincerely,

Hon. Dale Williams, County Manager

Lake City, FL 32055

Dear Mr. Williams

I have recently been contacted by several owners of establishments that sell alcoholic beverages in Columbia County, who have related to me that they are experiencing problems competing with similar establishments in our neighboring counties. The problems seem to stem primarily from our neighboring counties and cities within them, particularly, Suwannee and Alachua, being able to sell alcoholic beverages until 2:00 a.m., and Lowndes County, Georgia, selling until 1:55 a.m., while our County prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages past 1:00 a.m.

It is the desire of my clients that I bring the foregoing problem before the County Commission in order for them to express to the Commission their concerns and problems with the current County Ordinances regarding the sales of alcoholic beverages within the County, and specifically to consider amending Sections 10-33 and 10-34 County Ordinances, as follows:

RE: Hours of Sale - Alcoholic Beverages

As you are aware, most counties adjoining Columbia County have successfully completed referendums allowing for the sale of alcoholic beverages. Once the sale of alcoholic beverages is approved, the hours of sale are regulated by Ordinance. It has been suggested that Columbia County review its Ordinance regulating hours of sale with those of neighboring counties. A copy of Article II Hours of Sale from the county's alcoholic beverage ordinance is attached. Also attached is a survey pertaining to Sunday sales by restaurants.

From the material provided it would appear that Columbia County has a more restrictive ordinance than neighboring counties; therefore, local businesses are at a disadvantage. I am requesting that you review the materials provided. It is my intention to request that a Public Hearing be set to discuss a change in the hours of sale permitted for alcoholic beverages in Columbia County. Specifically, I will ask that Sunday liquor sales be allowed in restaurants.

BOARD MEETS FIRST THURSDAY AT 7:00 P.M.
AND THIRD THURSDAY AT 7:00 P.M.

You should also be aware that several local businesses have organized to propose even further changes in the county's ordinance. These changes would affect the hours in which alcoholic beverages could be sold and allowing for package sales on Sunday. These are not part of my proposal; however, these changes may be included in the Public Hearing if approved by the Board.

MEMORANDUM

To: County Commissioner Ron Williams
From: Harvey Campbell, Tourist Development Department
Subject: Information from restaurants pertaining to availability of liquor by the drink

Several weeks ago, you requested this office survey and compile information on the potential impact/benefit to local restaurants if Columbia County allowed for the sale of liquor (above the current availability of just beer and wine) on Sunday. In my discussions with the restaurants it has been suggested that a cocktail could be ordered with lunch or dinner starting at perhaps 11:00 a.m. and continue until closing time.

It should also be understood that even if the Board of County Commissioners approved an amendment to the current ordinance that sets the hours and restrictions on alcoholic sales, the City of Lake City would have to ratify that change to allow for Sunday liquor by the drink in order for sales to be allowed.

At present, both the City of Lake City and Columbia County allow for the sale of both beer and wine on Sunday, beginning at 7:00 a.m. and continuing until 1:00 a.m. on Monday morning.

In all, there are 53 categories and types/classes of licenses issued by the Florida Division of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco, Bureau of Licensing.

In compliance with your request, we have restricted our survey to those under "Type 6" and the various Consumption on Premises (COP) variances. In general, these type restaurants seat a minimum of 150, have 4,000 square feet of floor space and a minimum of 51% of sales must be food related. It should be noted, however, that upon considering a change to the Sunday ordinance some consideration should potentially be given to a license in Category 15/Golf Clubs/Permit Type 11CG. Quail Heights Country Club would fall into this classification and Type 6/Special Motel/Hotel which would affect the Holiday Inn Hotel & Suites.

You will also likely be approached by organizations falling under Category 11 which relates to a wide array of private clubs that may also request the County Commission include them in any revision to the existing ordinance.

Attached you'll find a copy of the revised Suwannee County Alcoholic Beverages ordinance that now will allow for the sale of liquor seven-days-a-week from 7:00 a.m. until 2:00 a.m. and allows package stores and bars to be open for Sunday sales, also.

Returning to the original request of surveying the local restaurants about the impact of allowing Sunday liquor by the drink, there are 10 that would be potentially affected by the change. One of them, Phish Heads, is currently closed on Sunday and owner Phil Crenshaw said the potential change would not change his opinion on being closed on that day.

We asked three questions of the other nine properties (two of which are now being built: Olive Garden and Longhorn Steak House).

- 1.) Is the inability to sell a cocktail with lunch or dinner hurting your business today? If so, how much?
- 2.) If the ordinance was changed to allow for alcohol by the drink, how much would it benefit your business?
- 3.) If Sunday liquor by the drink was allowed, what impact would it have on employment, either in terms of additional staff or additional hours for existing staff?

Listed below are the responses from the nine restaurants that would be directly impacted by a change in the ordinance, allowing for Sunday liquor by the drink.

- Gondoller Italian Restaurant and Pizza, Steve Godevas, Manager. Lack of ability to sell is costing the restaurant 2-5% of monthly sales. Having access to sell would increase sales 10-20% monthly because customers wouldn't have to travel outside the county to have a drink with their meal. They would have to add additional bartenders and servers to meet increased sales demand. "Beer and wine have the same effect as liquor. There is no logical reasoning behind having beer and wine, but not liquor. The county could produce more money. It's a no brainer."
- Ruby Tuesday, Lisa Scanlon, General Manager. Losing about $750 each Sunday in liquor sales and an additional $3,000 in food sales per month. Sports fans and truckers come in and want to watch Sunday NFL games and will leave and go to Gainesville or north to Valdosta. Having Sunday liquor sales would probably add $5,000 to revenues. It would also generate additional hours for bartenders and servers.
- Country Club at Lake City, Carl Ste-Marie, General Manager. Quite a few golfers will play in the morning, want to have lunch with a cocktail and when they are told only beer and wine are available, the group will load up in their cars and go to Gainesville and won't eat lunch and play another 18 holes in the afternoon in Lake City. Also has been an issue with groups who come down annually and stay in Lake City, but go to Gainesville for lunch on Sunday because of the lack of availability of liquor. Probably costs the club $3,000 a month. Would increase sales by at least $3,000 if available. Would benefit server staff and some golf course employment benefit.
- Players Club Seafood Bar and Grill, Sal Napoli, Owner. According to Mr. Napoli, if the sale of liquor on Sunday was allowed, the anticipated gross revenue increase in Sunday sales would be 35-55%. The impact on employment would be conservatively 60 man hours, a minimum of 1 ½ full time equivalent jobs would be created from the employment level that now exists. It should be noted that although Players Club is in-fact a full-service restaurant, the business operates with a quota license and not a special restaurant license.
- Texas Roadhouse Restaurant, Brian Bickel, owner. Yes, the inability of serving alcohol on Sunday does hurt his business. A change in the currently ordinance is projected to increase Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages and food by a minimum of $400 per week. Much of the current loss of business relates to the "sports bar crowd" that will go to Gainesville since alcohol sales are not allowed here. Brian predicts a change in the ordinance would create between 40-80 extra hours of labor.

- Applebee's, Hank Potoreiko, General Manager. The GM says the lack of liquor sales on Sunday has a significant negative impact on business at his restaurant. He estimates that Sunday liquor would result in an increase of food and beverage sales of approximately $2,000 - $3,000 a week. I was unable to obtain specifics about the impact on employment, but Mr. Potoreiko was confident Sunday sales would result in increased need for staff and added personnel.
- Darden Restaurants, owners of Red Lobster, Olive Garden and LongHorn Steakhouse Restaurants. Red Lobster has been open in Lake City for many years, Olive Garden and LongHorn are expected to open early in 2013. Spoke with Norma Rivera in Licensing and Beth with Media Communications. Neither was willing to give specific information on impact on sales, although Ms. Rivera indicated her experience was that sales did increase and resulted in expanded hours for server staff.

Spoke with Richard Turner with Florida Restaurant and Lodging Association and was unable to obtain any specific information about the impact or benefit of having Sunday sales in a county. He did venture the opinion that the vast majority of counties in Florida already allow Sunday liquor by the drink.

It should be noted that Alachua County does allow Sunday liquor and Lowndes County, GA (Valdosta) approved allowing Sunday liquor in 2011 and implementation began in January of this year. I was unable to obtain any data on economic impact created by the change in Valdosta's ordinance from the Chamber of Commerce in Lowndes County.

INFORMATION TO PROPOSERS
2013-A
PROFESSIONAL OFFICE SPACE

In 1993 the County commissioned Saxelbye Architects, Planners & Interior Designers of Jacksonville, FL to prepare a Courthouse Complex Renovation Feasibility Analysis. The study also included an option for building a new courthouse and administrative complex.

At the time of the study, the courthouse was occupied by the following offices in addition to the Judges, their courtrooms, Guardian Ad Litem, State Attorney, Public Defender, and other court administration officials:

- Sheriff
- Undersheriff
- Sheriff Administration/Human Resources
- Special Projects
- Veteran Services
- Environmental Health
- Tax Collector
- Building and Zoning
- Board of County Commissioners
- Clerk of the Court
- Property Appraiser

The Supervisor of Elections and Economic Development offices were located in the Chamber of Commerce building. The Suwannee River Economic Council (SREC) was in a free standing mobile home on county property adjacent to the jail.

Renovations to the Courthouse, Courthouse Annex, and Montgomery Building were studied. In addition, a recommendation to purchase the Mabry Brothers Building and Wards Warehouse for renovation or demolition, and the demolition of the Chamber building for use as a parking area was reviewed. Subsequent to the renovations and placing offices in their current locations, the county added a Tourist Development Office (TDC), and provided space for the Red Cross and 911 Dispatch/Emergency Operations Center.

Plans were drawn that included housing the Clerk of Court, Supervisor of Elections, and Veteran Services in the remodeled court house and moving the Board of County Commissioners, Tax Collector, Property Appraiser, Building and Zoning, and Environmental Health to the remodeled Annex Building. Economic Development and the Chamber moved to a rented location. The Montgomery building was not renovated, the Mabry Brothers building and Wards Warehouse were not purchased, however, the Chamber Office was raised. At approximately the same time the renovations were being performed, (1999), a building to house the 911/Emergency Operations center was built on Lake City Ave.

Sometime before the Elections office could move to the courthouse, it was decided to move them to their current location in the old Lake City Medical Center.

In response to the added departments and growth of the County and the additional personnel needed to provide the necessary services for the citizenry, offices were moved and scattered into several locations. In 2003, in an effort to again have offices at a centralized location to assist citizens in need of services and provide efficiencies in providing those services, a committee was formed to study the possibility of leasing or purchasing one large office complex or building a new complex on County owned property known as the former Boys Club on Lake Jeffery Road. This committee consisted of Commissioners, County Staff, and Citizens at large. After performing a space needs analysis and performing site visits to potential buildings and sites, the committee proposed building a new complex on the Lake Jeffery property. At the time, however, building a new complex was not considered a viable option.

The County has continued to grow and staff needs have increased. County offices are scattered around the county, and in many cases without needed room for storage and personnel. Furthermore, the Extension Office Lease is expiring and the Montgomery Building has to be closed due to asbestos and lead paint abatement issues. The TDC is taking space needed by the 911/Emergency Operations Center and the SREC mobile home is inadequate. Therefore, late in 2012, the County issued a RFP requesting bids for the lease of office space to centrally locate the following five (5) distinct offices:

Extension Office, 9 staff, currently renting at the Columbia County Fair Grounds site
TDC, 3 staff, currently in the 911/Emergency Operations Center with storage in a number of buildings, pays no rent but has the ability to pay from its bed tax allotment
Red Cross, 2 staff, currently in the Montgomery Building
Veterans Affairs, 1 staff, currently in the Montgomery Building
SREC, 4 staff, currently in the original mobile home

After reviewing the bids received, a committee was formed to again look at all the possibilities including the purchase of professional office space verses lease space or new construction. A recommendation to issue a RFP requesting proposals for the purchase of professional office space was made by the committee. The Board of County Commissioners accepted the recommendation and on February 21, 2013 authorized this RFP. The purpose of this RFP is to determine what existing buildings are available to assist the County in meeting current and future space needs.

Questions regarding this request should be submitted to Ray Hill, Purchasing Director, Columbia County Purchasing Department at (386) 719-2028 or email Ray_Hill@columbiacountyfla.com.
